Question 1: Which of these is not a numeric data type?
1 - integer
2 - double
3 - boolean
4 - float

Answer - 3

Question 2: Which of the following is a reserved c++ keyword?
1 - buddy
2 - friend
3 - pal
4 - homeslice

Answer - 2

Question 3: What does the & symbol mean in C++?
1 - address of
2 - and
3 - not
4 - value of

Answer - 1

Question 4: You do not need to document your functions in CS1570
1 - true
2 - false
3 - sometimes
4 - I don't know

Answer - 2

Question 5: What is "OOP"?
1 - Only Once Programming
2 - Object Oriented Programming
3 - What I say when I stub my toe
4 - Ope, oh peanuts.

Answer - 2

Question 6: How many significant digits can a float have?
1 - 9
2 - 8
3 - 7
4 - 6

Question 7: If C is 3, then C++ is:
1 - An object oriented programming language
2 - 4
3 - Amazing
4 - All of the above

Question 8: What is the maximum value of a signed integer in C++?
1 - 81
2 - 2147483647
3 - 11
4 - -12

Question 9: What does == do in C++?
1 - Sets the left variable equal to the right value
2 - Checks the validity of a data type in C++
3 - Checks if 2 values are equal to each other
4 - All of the above

Question 10: Can you lose money in this game show?
1 - Yes
2 - No
3 - Don't pick this one
4 - Don't pick this one either

Answer - 1